

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION/MARKETING

Responsibilities and Qualifications

The University of the Ozarks invites applications for a current opening as a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Business Administration/Marketing beginning August, 2017. Candidates should have earned a terminal degree or be ABD in Business Administration or Marketing. Applicants should have a strong, interdisciplinary approach to both Business Administration and Marketing which may focus on specific applications related to international integration, marketing channels, and digital marketing approaches. Experience in academic instruction, marketing, or general business applications is preferred. Opportunity to teach courses in the area of expertise and/or developing new courses is provided. Teaching will consist of up to 24 credits per academic year along with academic advising to students and institutional/community service is expected.

The University of the Ozarks values personal attention and collegiality, thus a familiarity with and understanding of a small and residential campus are highly desirable.

Ranked in the top ten of southern region comprehensive baccalaureate institutions by U. S. News & World Report, the University of the Ozarks is a Presbyterian-related institution that blends the liberal arts and professional preparation in a student-centered environment emphasizing quality teaching and student learning. The University serves a diverse group of approximately 650 students from the United States and abroad on a beautiful campus in Clarksville, Arkansas, located along I-40 approximately 90 miles northwest of Little Rock, nestled between the Arkansas River and the Ozark Mountains. Recent major gifts have enhanced the academic program and other campus initiatives. For more information about the University of the Ozarks, visit www.ozarks.edu.
