

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR – MUSIC

Responsibilities and Qualifications

The University invites applications for a current opening as an Assistant Professor of Music beginning August 2016. Candidates should have experience in undergraduate teaching and be in possession of a graduate degree in music at the time of appointment. Candidates should have the ability to teach a broad range of courses in music and music theory. The abilities to contribute to the general education curriculum are desirable as is the ability to build upon the existing program of choral activities, thus preference will be given to those with experience in choral direction and vocal instruction. The University of the Ozarks values personal attention and collegiality, thus a familiarity with and understanding of a small and residential campus are highly desirable.

Ranked in the top ten of southern region comprehensive baccalaureate institutions by U. S. News & World Report, the University of the Ozarks is a Presbyterian-related institution that blends the liberal arts and professional preparation in a student-centered environment emphasizing quality teaching and student learning. The University serves a diverse group of approximately 650 students from the United States and abroad on a beautiful campus in Clarksville, Arkansas, located along I-40 approximately 90 miles northwest of Little Rock, nestled between the Arkansas River and the Ozark Mountains. Recent major gifts have enhanced the academic program and other campus initiatives. For more information about the University of the Ozarks, visit www.ozarks.edu.

Application Procedures

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2015 and will continue until the search is completed. Please send letter of application; vita; names, addresses, phone numbers and email addresses of three references; and graduate transcripts (official transcripts required for campus interview) to:

Dr. Steve Oatis
Dean, Division of Fine Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences
University of the Ozarks
415 N. College Avenue
Clarksville, AR 72830
soatis@ozarks.edu